Northwest Arkansas

Northwest Arkansas is a thriving community which includes the cities of Fayetteville, Springdale, Rogers, Bentonville, and Bella Vista.

Being in the northwest portion of the state allows for residents and visitors to have access to a variety of outdoor activities and locations. Devil's Den State Park, located just South of Fayetteville off I49, offers a variety of trails and overlooks. Other outdoor must-sees are Beaver Lake, War Eagle Mill, and the Razorback Greenway.

There is no lack of art or history in NWA. Located in Bentonville, the Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art is free to the public. There is also the Scott Family Amazeum and the Walmart Museum.

There is a very large selection of shopping and restaurants in downtown Rogers and the Bentonville square. One of the larger shopping centers in the area is the Pinnacle Hills Promenade in Rogers.

In the heart of Fayetteville lies the University of Arkansas. Founded in 1871, the U of A is the largest University in the state with over 27,000 students currently enrolled. Our campus provides a variety of historical landmarks such as Old Main and access to Dickson St. and downtown Fayetteville.
